

Input - Receiver

Receives sound waves bounce off of the object. Then records the time for the wave to reach the sensor.

Output - Transmitter

Emits sound waves which then bounce off the object being measured, back to the receiver.